The Best Technology Writing, 2010: 2010

By Julian Dibbell

Yale University Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, The Best Technology Writing, 2010: 2010, Julian Dibbell, The iPad. The Kindle. Twitter. When "The Best Technology Series" was inaugurated in 2005, these technologies did not exist. Today, they not only make headlines: they define our twenty-first-century lives. In his introduction to "The Best Technology Writing 2010", Julian Dibbell addresses the collective fascination with all things digital: 'More than other technology, the digital is us. Yet for that reason, the digital is also something more, a lightening rod for our feelings about technology in general'. This deep fascination reverberates throughout this collection: Sam Anderson's giddy but troubled defence of online distractions; David Carr's full-throated elegy to the dying world of predigital publishing; Steven Johnson's warm appreciation of Twitter's bite-sized contributions to collective human intelligence; Vanessa Grigoriadis' probing assessments of Facebook's growing role in our personal lives; and, Evan Ratliff's fascinating monthlong quest to disappear without a digital trace - each reflects our intimate and complicated relationship to digital media. Yet, as Dibbell notes, the essays collected here also remind us that some of the most disruptive technologies come from beyond the digital world. Whether it is Jill Lepore writing on the...
